

Ailing Wang

May 13, 1962 - October 15, 2018

Ailing Wang, daughter, sister, mother and grandmother, died peacefully on October 15th, 2018 in Fremont at the age of 56.

Ailing Wang is survived by her parents, Qifu Wang, Biyun Yin, by her siblings Ruiling Wang, Hailin Wang, Lizhi Wang, and by her daughter, Yafang Tan.

Ailing Wang was born on May 13th, 1962 in Zhuzhou, Hunan, China to Biyun Yin and Qifu Wang. She graduated from Zhuzhou Normal University in 1981 with a degree in Education. She became an elementary teacher right after graduation and served in the same position for 36 years. She got married to Xuexin Tan in 1984 and gave him dedicated care for 14 years while he was ill. Although the couple finally got divorced in 2004, her ex-husband appreciates everything she had done for him during his critical illness. She welcomed her daughter Yafang Tan into her home in 1986. Her daughter also remembers her as the loving mother who always encourages her to pursue her goals. Ailing Wang was accomplished at teaching and was the most popular teacher in her school. She always encouraged her students to observe and think, instead of pushing them. She likes singing and dancing and was active in many school events. She also deeply believes in Jesus and prays every day.
