“ Happy Father's Day in heaven Dad. You are missed deeply! You have taught me alot, but one lesson on how life moves on with out a daughter's first love. I know you live on in memories but some days memories are not enough, to have that hug, another conversation with you again is what I need. I am doing my best at what you asked me to do, but she misses you as well.

“Eddie was the best big brother a girl could ever ask for. From the time I was a baby you were always there for me and taking care of me. As a teenager when it was just you and me living at home your guidance and the fun we shared have always been so special to me. You took me on some crazy carnival rides and I'll always remember how much fun we had. I hope your resting peacefully brother...until we meet again....Love your baby sister Betty

“ I remember going to your house and on New Years Eve you would teach me how to cheat in Uno. I still try to cheat in games the same ways, but I get caught. I wasn't as good as you were at it. -Logan

“ Grandpa, I remember as a little kid I would be so excited to come stay my week at your house just so you and I could walk across the street and go to Baldies for breakfast then walk to 7/11 and get a slurpee while you got your lottery ticket. Then we would go home and I would help you clean out the leaves from the gutters and get myself a dollar for helping. Even growing up you would tell me that nobody is willing to go out there and clean them up like I used to. I love you so much and miss you each day. You were the greatest grandpa anyone could ever ask for.
