“ My greatest memories of my grandmother are from when I was little. Anytime my dad took me to her house she always greeted us with hugs, kisses, and her unforgettable smile. My grandmother always smelled like baby powder on her cheeks. I will never forget her cheeks because I have her full cheeks, as does my daughter Aimee. She was kind and quiet, but threw in a little naughty joke to make you laugh. Mainly I just remember her love and her love for my father. When she lost him, she never recovered. Well, grandma, now you are home with our Lord and my father and I know you are once again reunited with your baby boy. Love you!! <3
