

Helen Bridge

December 21, 1943 - August 22, 2012

The beautiful soul that was Helen Browning Bridge passed away peacefully on August 22, 2012. She was surrounded by family when she took her last breath.

Helen was the loving wife of 30 years to her husband Tom, a mother, very proud of her daughter Katherine and a devoted grandmother to her granddaughter Karyn.

In addition to her immediate family Helen was loved and will be missed by aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews on both sides of her family.

Helen worked in the business world most of her adult life. She worked in government consulting, medical research and business development. Helen rose to positions of responsibility in every job she held.

Helen decided on early retirement in 2000 in order to provide care for her granddaughter. Those were the happiest days of Helen's life.

Helen spent the final years of her life enjoying trips to various wine appellations of California, girls' weeks in Pismo Beach and summer trips with her husband and granddaughter.

Everyone who met Helen liked her. She will be missed by both her family and the many friends she acquired over her lifetime.

The family appreciates the efforts of the staff of Washington Hospital, Fremont, who made Helen's last days the best possible.

“ Dearest Tom,
So sad to hear of your loss. There are no words to give to you.
Although it's been a long while since I laughed with you and Helen, that is what I will always remember: Helen's wonderful from the heart laugh. Prayers to you and the family.

“ Dear Tom; We are so sorry to know that Helen passed away. Be sure to write down memories you shared with your wife...your Grandchildren will enjoy reading about all the trips you took and experiences you enjoyed. And continue to talk to her everyday...she is still with you!!!

“ We've only known Helen for the short time we've lived in Dublin, just over 4 years. We quickly learned what an inspiration Helen was to not only her own immediate family, but to all of the "family" we have come to know here. Helen was a beautiful soul that will live on forever in our hearts.
