“ It was a blast growing up with Mike from 4th grade on to adult life. He was the perfect example of what best friend means. We did everything together. My favorite memories are those when we were riding our 10 speed bikes. We went everywhere. It was our first brush with freedom and we were fanatics. I moved across town, miles away and still we would meet in the middle and ride the rest of the way to each other's house. It was the best of times. Mike had a great relationship with his father. They worked together in the family business and they were hilarious to be around. They loved each other even though sometimes you had to wonder the way they teased each other. Mike was a great friend to me and has been a positive influence on my family. He is missed.
